COMMISSION'S REPORT GIVEN
HOOVER TODAYLaw Enforcement Board
Submits Its Report
On Prohibition

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The Law Enforcement Commission's prohibition report was submitted to President Hoover today.

Chairman Wickersham arrived at the White House proper just before 9 A. M. He carried the long-awaited document in a bulky envelope.

The President soon went over to his offices, but whether to study the report was not revealed. He is expected to submit the Commission's findings to Congress without delay, possibly Tuesday or Wednesday.

At that time it will be available for publication.

The report of the Commission as a whole has been described as largely factual, but embracing recommendations for improving conditions in connection with Volstead enforcement.

The word has been given that no recommendation for repeal or modification is included in this main report. Sources close to the Commission said no effort is made to gloss over facts either favorable or unfavorable to the dry laws, however.

Individual Opinions

The report as submitted includes individual opinions from among the eleven Commissioners. How many dissented from the majority report is expected to be made known only through publication of the documents themselves.

From the Commissioners themselves in recent weeks have come assertions that unanimity could not be hoped for.

Under the plan upon which the report finally was drafted the members have written separate reports or opinions to take care of these divergencies.

The task of studying and reporting on all the nation's laws was put in the hands of the Commission and George W. Wickersham, the 72-year-old chairman, exactly 19 months and 23 days ago.

Now that the prohibition report is out of its hands, the commission is to concentrate on other phases of its study. A final report is expected to be made in the spring.

At the White House later, the announcement came that President Hoover had begun to study the prohibition report.

His engagement list was held to the very minimum in order that he might devote the entire day to the task. He expects to send it to Congress tomorrow noon.

No summary of the long document will be issued. The conclusions of the majority of the Commission have been placed at the very beginning of the document.

Union Station Held Up By Lone Bandit

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(UP)—A bandit flung his way into the Union Station, terminal point of four trunk line railroads, early today, although the doors were wide open. He took $10,000 to $15,000 from a vault, locked a cashier inside, and escaped the way he came. The cashier, Robert Smith, was released two hours later, unharmed.

The bandit chose to pry open a window opening on the driveway of the station because it gave access to the steel-barred ticket offices. It was during a four-hour period when no trains departed from the station and only a few sleepy travelers were around.

Inside the ticket offices, the bandit, about 25, and wearing goggles, was confronted by a wicker cage, behind which Smith was relieving a ticket seller. The bandit held a gun on Smith and forced him to open the wicker cage. Then he took the money from the open vault, locked Smith inside, and departed through the jammed window.

Death Robs Mob Of Intended Victim

Shreveport, La., Jan. 19.—(UP)—Death robbed a mob of its victim here last night when Leman McDaniel, Negro suspect in the slaying of two policemen, died as hundreds of men ran along the halls of Charity hospital seeking him.

Announcement of the Negro's death averted a probable battle between the mob and dozens of policemen stationed in the hospital.

Three men leading the mob were invited into the Negro's room to view the body. Dr. E. L. Sanderson, Superintendent, said.

The three returned to their companions with the news and in an hour the mob had dispersed.

Lee A. Williams, 24, and Teddy Williams, 26, youngest members of the Shreveport police force, were killed in a raid on a Negro gambling den.

McDaniel opened fire on the officers and was fatally wounded.

Sugar cane was discovered in China.

His Bond

Port Arthur, Tex., Jan. 19.—(UP)—A. B. Johnson, 40, was free today under $10,000 bond furnished by eight prominent Port Arthur citizens who did not want to see him imprisoned for killing a youth whom he thought had helped cause his daughter to commit suicide.

Johnson's daughter, Elizabeth, 19, was found dead in Robert L. Williams' automobile in front of a church a few weeks ago.

A grand jury refused to indict Williams, a student at Texas University, after he said he and Elizabeth had quarreled and that she had killed herself while he sought advice from a minister regarding their disagreement. He said Otis Lee Adams, 22, a Sunday school teacher, was the cause of the quarrel.

"I've just shot Ote Adams; go see if I did a good job," Johnson told police as he walked into their station and surrendered Saturday night. He had killed the youth instantly with a shot through the heart.

"I have done nothing I regret," he told his wife when she visited him in jail Sunday. A short time later the bond was furnished and he was freed.

HEAVY BLANKET

MIDWEST STATESIt Caused Many Accidents
In Traffic; Many
Are Injured

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(UP)—A wet heavy blanket of snow, which caused much auto skidding and which had brought about many accidents while falling because it obscured vision of motorists, covered much of the Great Lakes region today.

The snow fell in huge, wet flakes in Chicago almost all day Sunday and much of it melted as it fell. The temperature was above freezing all day. Dozens of persons were injured in auto accidents attributed directly to the storm and at least one was killed. The snow turned to rain for a while last night.

In New York rain or snow was forecast for today. Rain fell in most of the mid-Atlantic states. Along the southern seaboard the weather remained fair and it was colder.

South of Chicago and in the southwest it rained. The temperature was about freezing. The weather was generally fair and there was no rain or snow in the Rocky Mountain states.

On the west coast the weather was becoming unsettled in the north, with moderate temperatures and fair skies in southern California. Frost was forecast for the northern part of California.

STANDARD OIL STATION ATTENDANT
HELD UP EARLY THIS MORN: SECOND
EXPERIENCE OF KIND IN THREE WEEKS

Gas station thieves were active in Dixon again this morning at an early hour and John Padgett, night attendant at the Third street Standard Oil Co. service station was again the target of much abuse from two youths, armed with automatic pistols who obtained about $15 in cash. At 1:15 this morning a small sedan drove into the station, the driver asking for five gallons of gasoline.

Padgett serviced the car and was told to check the oil. As he walked toward the front of the car, two of the occupants who had stepped out into the drive thrust automatic pistols against Padgett's body and ordered him into the office. Here they relieved him of what change he had and ordered him to open the safe. The attendant obeyed the order but the thieves found the cash box in the safe empty. The receipts for the day had been placed in the night depository at one of the local banks.

Cursing the attendant for not having more money, one of the men opened the door of a closet locker, where the employee's clothing was hanging and took a leather jacket. Both backed out of the station and stepped into the waiting car in which a third youth was waiting at the wheel and the car sped west on Third street. Padgett described the trio as being in their late teens. This morning's robbery is the second visit to the Third street station in three weeks.

LOOT; ONE KILLEDMurder Leads To Capture
Of Five Of Alleged
Bank Robbers

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—(UP)—A gangster quarrel in an arsenal hide-away over division of northwest bank raid spoils resulted in the killing of Thomas Melnick, Chicago gangster, Chief of Police Thomas A. Brown charged today.

Brown's announcement was made after his men raided the house in front of the spot where Melnick's body was found. The killing was provoked by a dispute over division of loot from the robbery of the First Bank of Grantsburg, Wis., last week. Three men and two women were arrested.

In the raided house, police found a sub-machine gun, a German Mauser, a .32 automatic, believed to have been used in killing Melnick; a sawed-off shotgun, a .30 rifle, a satchel of ammunition, a .25 Colt automatic, a second .32 automatic, a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver, two canvas money sacks, two caps, a purse for carrying ammunition, and revolvers and several sets of stolen Minnesota, Georgia and Nebraska automobile plates.

Floor plans of a bank, believed to be those of the Grantsburg bank or some other institution which they planned to raid were found.

Seek To Postpone
Execution Of Two

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Attorneys for Leo V. Brothers, St. Louisian indicted for the murder of Alfred Lingke, revealed today they would attempt to halt the execution of two men in an effort to use them as witnesses in their attempt to show that Brothers did not kill the Tribune reporter.

The men are Frank H. Bell and Richard Sullivan, under sentence to die in the electric chair February 14 for the slaying of Christ Patras restaurant manager. At their trial Bell told a story of being involved in the Lingke killing, but Patrick Roche, Chief Investigator for the State's Attorney's office, but no credence in his statements. Brothers' attorneys, however, said they would ask that the execution of both men be postponed until after Brothers is tried.

Probe Jail Break
At South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 19.—(UP)—An inquiry was opened today into the smuggling of saws into the county jail here, which was responsible for the spectacular jail break Sunday in which five prisoners escaped.

Prisoners took the keys and three guns from the turnkey, and locked him in his own jail.

The inquiry was being conducted by Sheriff Walter I. Fegan, who took office 18 days before the break.

Herbert Smith, Negro, accused wife slayer, and Cletus Corey, Benton, Ill., were recaptured four hours after the break.

Edward O'Brien, leader of the break, wanted for Federal authorities Howard Miller, held for Dyer Act prosecution, and Frank Lucas, alleged Plymouth auto thief, had not been heard from early today.

Visit To Barber
College Costly

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(UP)—J. C. Thornton, 30, went into a South State St. barber college for a haircut today. When he looked into the mirror and saw what a student was doing to the top of his head he protested.

That was the last he remembered, he told police at the Central Detective Bureau several weeks. Police surgeons found that besides the haircut, Thornton had received a gouged-out eye and a skull was said to be serious.

The French government has established regulations for the inspection of all re-enforced concrete work, both during and after construction.

ROCKFORD BOY
OFFERS ALIBI:
BEING CHECKEDSuspect In Miss Moss'
Murder Says He Was Working

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Rockford police were called upon today to check up on the alibi furnished by William Stone, 20, one of the two suspects held in the fatal strangling of Miss Eppe (Jack) Moss.

Stone, seized in Lincoln, Ill., because he was wearing a torn leather coat similar to that worn by the stranger and because his photograph showed a likeness, police say, to that of the man who fled the scene, declared he was working in Chap Bechman's pool room at Rockford Thursday afternoon and the following Friday.

He insisted that he was beating his way to St. Louis, where a brother lives, at the time of his capture.

A second suspect, seized by police, was being held incommunicado. Like Stone, he is said to be wearing a sheepskin collared leather coat with scratches down the back.

Meanwhile, investigators were seeking the whereabouts of Miss Belleta Morse, roommate of the strangled woman. At her apartment it was said that she had gone to a sanitarium suffering from a nervous breakdown. They were unable to learn the name of the sanitarium.

CHICAGO OPERA
SINGER SCORED
HIT IN DIXONCoe Glade Delighted
Large Audience At Dixon Theater

A large and appreciative audience left the Dixon Theatre Sunday afternoon, following the concert given by Coe Glade, beautiful Civic Opera Star under the auspices of the Dixon Civic Music Association.

Coe Glade is a contralto, her voice possessing both rare sweetness and power, and she thrilled her listeners yesterday with her charming person and manner, in her varied and delightful program. The reviewers and critics in the Chicago papers of last week were exceptionally kind to Miss Glade and well they might be, for although one of the youngest Civic opera stars, she ranks with the best, and with her beautiful voice and sweet personality and keen intellect she has nothing to fear for the future. Her appearances in "Mignon," in the city were signals each time for ovations, and she was equally popular with that star of stars, Schipa, who sang in the same opera with her.

Lindbergh Honored
By French Legion

Washington, Jan. 19.—(UP)—Surrounded by a group of high government officials and diplomats, Charles A. Lindbergh last night received another tribute to his transatlantic flight — the Commander's Cross of the Legion of Honor.

French Ambassador Paul Claudel made the presentation in a simple ceremony at the French embassy.

"Youth, simplicity, a lion-hearted boldness, and more than anything else, a spirit of individualism — these are those features of your person and of your great act which make you dear to a nation of individualists, who appreciate nothing more than the 'coupe de genie'," the Ambassador said.

Lindbergh blushed profusely as he received the medal. The usual kiss was eliminated. Instead he and Claudel shook hands.

In sharp contrast to the formal dress and medal bedecked uniforms of those present, the famous flyer wore a plain light blue sack suit. Mrs. Lindbergh and Senator Dwight W. Morrow, her father, were among the guests.

"Never punish a child unless you are sure he realizes what it is for, and be sure you have the guilty one," wrote Brown, who was convicted of killing Mrs. Ellis for $220 in dimes paid him by the woman's husband.

"Keep firearms from growing boys until they are at least 18," was another admonition.

"Never lie to or in front of a child, for it can detect it as quickly as an older person," was another.

"Never promise anything you do not intend to do, either as a reward or punishment," was the last.

HOG THIEVES AGAIN ACTIVE IN
LEE CENTER VICINITY: LESTER
REED FARM VISITED YESTERDAY

Hog thieves, who have been operating in one section of Lee county for the past month, were active again early Sunday morning, and succeeded in taking two hogs weighing about 300 pounds apiece from the Lester Reed farm east of Amboy on the Lee Center road. A neighbor was awakened when he heard three cars racing past his place about 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

Arising, he looked out of the window, saw one of the cars, a light roadster, turn out the lights and stop. Another car following was flashing the headlights.

The neighbor became suspicious, and dressing, went out of the house where he heard hogs squealing in the vicinity of the Reed house. He was able to distinguish a stock truck, some distance away into which the hogs had been loaded. Taking his own car he started to follow one of the machines, and raced north through Franklin Grove where the driver turned out his lights and succeeded in evading his pursuer. A leather glove was found at the Reed hog house which belonged to one of the thieves and this was turned over to the Sheriff's office this morning.

OKLAHOMA CITY IS AGAIN FACING
THREAT OF FIREAnother Big Oil Well Blows
Out Spraying Oil
Over City

Oklahoma City, Jan. 19.—(UP)—The Number 1 Wepaco well of T. B. Slick Corporation blew out today and sprayed oil over the southwestern section of the city.

Sheriff Stanley Rogers, who had charge of civil and military guards ordered 700 residents of the district to evacuate their homes immediately.

Factories were shut down and the Frisco and Rock Island railroads suspended service.

A spark from a train or a factory might ignite the entire southwestern section of the city, Rogers said. The well is located half a mile from the city hall and was a large gusher when brought in last year. It had an estimated flow of 60,000 barrels daily.

The blowout occurred when operators attempted to connect the well for production.

Guardsmen On Duty

Thousands of barrels of inflammable petroleum and gas poured over the wholesale district.

Ajt. Gen. Charles F. Barrett ordered 100 National Guardsmen to patrol the area while extra crews attempted to control the well.

The gusher is only 500 feet from the M. K. T. and Santa Fe Railroad station. It is located in the lumber yard of the Western Paving Company, from which it derives its name.

Police, firemen and state inspectors rushed to the location when it was learned the unruly gusher probably would be more menacing than any of the numerous bad actors in the flush city field.

Factories and warehouses rise about its tall derrick and fire in the well would turn it into a torch of destruction.

Residents Flee

Residents of the Walnut Grove district packed as many belongings as possible and fled as the sticky crude settled over their homes.

The well is at the eastern terminus of Grand Avenue, one of the main business streets of the city. The light brown column appeared to rise a hundred feet over the 100 foot derrick. Oil and gas spray settled over an area a mile square. There was little wind.

The well is one of the properties of the estate of the late Tom Slick "the King of Wildcaters." It is one of the largest wells in the Oklahoma City field and is the nearest of 100 wells to the city business section.

Michigan State
Capitol Burned
Near Midnight

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 19.—(UP)—Investigation to determine whether a fire in the Michigan State Capitol shortly after midnight, may have been of incendiary origin was begun today by state police.

The blaze, which swept the first and portions of the second and third floors of the historic buildings, caused damage estimated at $50,000. Civil war relics of great historical value were reported destroyed in the ground floor museum.

Discovery that an attempt had been made to break into the offices of the Attorney General on the second floor aroused the suspicion of incendiary.

Rapid spread of the flames, which quickly engulfed the entire east wing of the first floor and were shooting up the east elevator shaft when firemen arrived, also was regarded as significant by state police investigators.

Spontaneous combustion in a cigar stand, in which varnish had been placed Saturday, was a second theory of the cause of the fire.

Heroic efforts by six fire companies saved the major portion of the Capitol from destruction.

Michigan Brewers Outbreak Breweries

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—(UP)—Detroit's home brewers are manufacturing more beer than all breweries in Michigan did in pre-prohibition days, the ways and means committee of the Indiana House of Representatives has been told by W. J. Donnelly of Cedar Rapids, Ia., representing malt manufacturers.

The legislative inquiry is being made in connection with a bill proposing that a tax be laid on malt syrup and wort.

Donnelly declared malt manufacturers were willing to pay a tax, but warned that if the levy is too high there would be a danger of malt products being smuggled into the state and bootlegged.

CHICAGO BROKER,

DIXON, SUICIDEA. C. Baur, 31, Killed
Self At His Home
Sunday Morn

Adelbert C. Baur, 31 years old, A. C. Baur & Co., Chicago brokers, who has visited Dixon many times and had a large number of friends here, shot and killed himself yesterday in his apartment at 180 East Delaware place, Chicago. His wife, Martha, alarmed because he failed to awaken her, as was his custom, went to his bedroom and found him dead with a pistol beside him.

Mr. and Mrs. Baur attended a theater Saturday night and Mrs. Baur said her husband had not appeared unusually depressed when he retired. She said, however, that he had been despondent for several days and two weeks ago had brought home the pistol.

Dr. Emil F. Baur, 2536 Smalley court, father of the broker, said he believed his son had suffered a nervous breakdown from worry and overwork. Dr. Baur said his son had no domestic or financial worries, but had been depressed about the reorganization of his company which was to have taken place Feb. 1.

R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago stock exchange, in a statement last night explained that George E. Barnes, one of Mr. Baur's partners, had contemplated leaving the company to form a new partnership. Mr. Wood said that at a conference with Mr. Barnes and Arch C. Doty, another partner, it had been determined that the affairs of A. C. Baur & Co. were in sound condition. The fourth partner, George E. Hatchmann, has been in Havana and is returning immediately to Chicago, Mr. Wood said.

Baur was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1923. He organized A. C. Baur & Co. in 1928.

Old Confederacy
Honors Robt. Lee

Richmond, Va., Jan. 19.—(AP)—From Virginia to Texas, the boundaries of the old Confederacy, the 124th anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee was observed today.

Probably no more impressive service was held than that at Washington and Lee University which General Lee headed after the war between the states.

Virginia honored the memory of her famous son with a holiday in state and municipal offices, banks and schools. Exercises were held at Battle Abbey by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Services were held yesterday at old St. Paul's church in Richmond and at Stratford, the Lee home in Westmoreland county.

In many parts of the south Lee-Jackson Day was observed, since the 107th anniversary of General Thomas J. "Stonewall" Jackson is January 21st.

Wales And Brother
On High Seas Now

Santander, Spain, Jan. 19.—(AP)—After an exciting trip from Paris, the Prince of Wales and his youngest brother, Prince George, were en route today aboard the liner Oropesa on an 18,000-mile journey which will culminate with their inauguration of the British trade exhibition in Buenos Aires in March.

The two princes were many hours late in reaching Santander, their trouble began Saturday night when their train was held up 30 miles below Bordeaux by the derailment of a northbound train from the Spanish frontier.

French railroad officials at Bayonne sent a special train north to pick them up and carry them to Hendaye.

There, already four hours late, they transferred to motor cars, beginning a dangerous ride over sloping mountain roads to Santander. At Bilbao the automobile occupied by the Prince of Wales careened into that in which Prince George was riding but no one was hurt.

It was 9:30 P. M. before the motorcars reached the quay in Santander. The princes jumped from the vehicles and hurried aboard the Oropesa which left shortly afterward.

FINDING THE RIGHT ROAD

(Translated for The Christian Science Monitor)
ATHER and son walked jointly through field and bush one day.
Having strayed far by nightfall, they lost their homeward way.

The son looked hard at every rock, at every tree,
Hoping in each a guiding sign to see.

The father meanwhile upward raised raised to the stars his eyes,
As if the earth's direction he would find in the skies.

Silent remained the rocks; the trees
held up not a mite;
The stars, however, pointed with a ray of light.

Homeward they led the wanderers who had discerned,
That only in heaven was comforted
That only in heaven can wisdom for earthly need be learned.
—Friedrich Ruckert, in "Lyric Poetry."

Rev. Altpeter to Speak in Dixon

Rev. S. J. Altpeter, pastor of one of the largest and most beautiful churches in Peoria, will address a large gathering Wednesday evening at the Immanuel Lutheran church. Although the weather may be unfavorable yet it is expected that the members and friends will turn out in goodly numbers as they will want to hear again this favorite and much sought-after speaker. That Pastor Altpeter will bring a timely and fitting message in his usual inspiring and fascinating manner is putting it in mild terms. The fact that Pastor Altpeter has not yet announced his topic is keeping many in great suspense. Whatever you do, let nothing interfere with your coming Wednesday night. A special invitation is extended to all members and friends. Friends welcome! The noted lecturer will also speak at Amboy Lutheran church prior to the Dixon meeting at 6 P. M.

CLUB WOMEN PLANT TREES IN HONOR OF WASHINGTON

Washington—(AP)—Women's clubs throughout the country are planting trees for the George Washington bicentennial in 1932.
Memorial avenues of trees are being planned by club women in California and Utah. The Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs dedicated a state forest.
George Washington, his diary shows, liked to plant trees. As a result the American Tree Association is taking this means of celebrating the bicentennial.

CHICAGO OPERA SINGER SCORED HIT IN DIXON

*Composed for and dedicated to Miss Glade.

Most gracious was Miss Glade in her encores. She is more dramatic than even the usual grand opera singer, and her expression is true and sincere at all times. Her enunciation perfect. Gloriously warm and rich is her voice in the lower registers and mellow and sweet in the upper tones. She enjoys her work and puts her heart and soul into it and the wonderful melody of her voice yesterday thrilled her listeners as it poured in a golden rain from a source which seemed limitless as to power, range and sweetness. Perhaps her two most pretentious numbers were from the opera Carmen and she gave a delightful interpretation of the cigarette girl's defiant, wheedling, coaxing ballad, her gorgeous voice being displayed to great advantage here as well as in the Irish ballad "When Love Is King, Snowflakes, Into the Light, Tally Ho Thou and I etc. The South Carolina Croon Song was a tender, beautiful bit and some of her encores pleasingly humorous.

Willard Rhodes proved himself an accompanist of rare sympathy and skill and in his own selections on the program for the piano he quite won the hearts of his hearers and received merited encores.

At the close of the performance Miss Glade was heartily encored and applauded.

Mrs. Willard Thompson, president of the C. M. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 18.

The Golden Text was, "If thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments" (Matthew 19:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We apprehend life in divine Science only as we live above corporeal sense and correct it. Our proportionate admission of the claims of good or of evil determines the harmony of our existence,—our health, our longevity, and our Christianity" (p. 167).

"LOST WITH ALL HANDS."

There is a grim fascination to the mental picture which arises whenever an airplane vanishes on an ocean flight. One pictures a dark and empty ocean, with mile-long waves throwing up white crests to gleam in the blackness; a frail airplane, soaring above, faltering suddenly, dipping down, plowing into the water—and then, after a moment, not a ripple or a bit of wreckage to show what has happened. The picture is unpleasant, but it sticks in one's mind.

Probably it is the loneliness of it that fascinates us. We all nourish the hope that when our time comes to go we can go decently, surrounded by people we love; as if, perhaps, the infinite loneliness of a man who is stepping out of this world could be mitigated a little by the presence of those who must stay behind. And to think of going alone, in mid-ocean, with only the storm-clouds for witnesses—it is a dark picture.

But human beings, who are afraid of death, are also adventurous; and as the years pass there will be many airplanes lost at sea, with eternal mystery to cover the fate of their occupants. And this will be true, no matter how nearly perfect the airplane finally becomes; for the sea is cruel, and from the days of the Phoenicians has given many, many men lonely burials.

Indeed, if it is morbidly fascinating to think of the disappearance of one airplane in mid-ocean, how much more so is it to think of the long, long list of ships that have gone to sea and have never made a landfall. There is a whole picture gallery there, of endless length, done in the manner of Dore.

That phrase, "Lost with all hands," is the caption for most of these pictures. Perhaps the gallery begins with Ulysses, who got into his galley to sail beyond the sunset, and who was never seen again; and the early Roman merchants who crept out beyond Gibraltar to sail up to Britain for tin, lacking charts and compass, must have contributed pictures. Then, in a later age, there were the Venetians, who sent clumsy caravels to Constantinople and Egypt to tap the Oriental trade routes and the Vikings, who colonized Greenland and sailed down the American coastline to Chesapeake Bay; and, a little later, the Portuguese, coasting down Africa and doubling the Cape of Good Hope, and the Spaniards, learning how treacherous and destructive were the sudden hurricanes of the Caribbean; and then the Dutch, who took round-bowed ships past Java Head, and the English, who hunted the Northwest Passage, and sent sea-rovers out to harry the Spaniard.

The gallery is a long one. And when a white monoplane sails off over the ocean and is never seen again, we are simply getting another dark picture, fit for uncomfortable dreams, late at night, to add to a series that begin long ages ago.

THE LAME DUCKS AGAIN.

Those who are worried about the possibility of recalcitrant congressmen forcing a special session on the nation this spring really ought to join in the demand for passage of the Norris anti-lame duck amendment.

As things now stand, the tail-end session of a dead Congress can force the convening of an extra session—regardless of the merits of the case—simply because a clumsy and outworn constitutional provision has called them back to Washington for a very brief period and has made it imperative that certain legislation be passed before they adjourn. If that legislation is not passed, there must be a special session; and a few earnest talkers can keep it from passing.

Under the Norris amendment, all of this would be changed. We would not have short sessions of lame ducks, and we would not have to worry about the talking-to-death of needed laws.

That is a point eminently worth bearing in mind.

"Chewing Gum Sales Up 60 Million." Headline. Which should convince the manufacturers of the adage that all good things come in little packages.

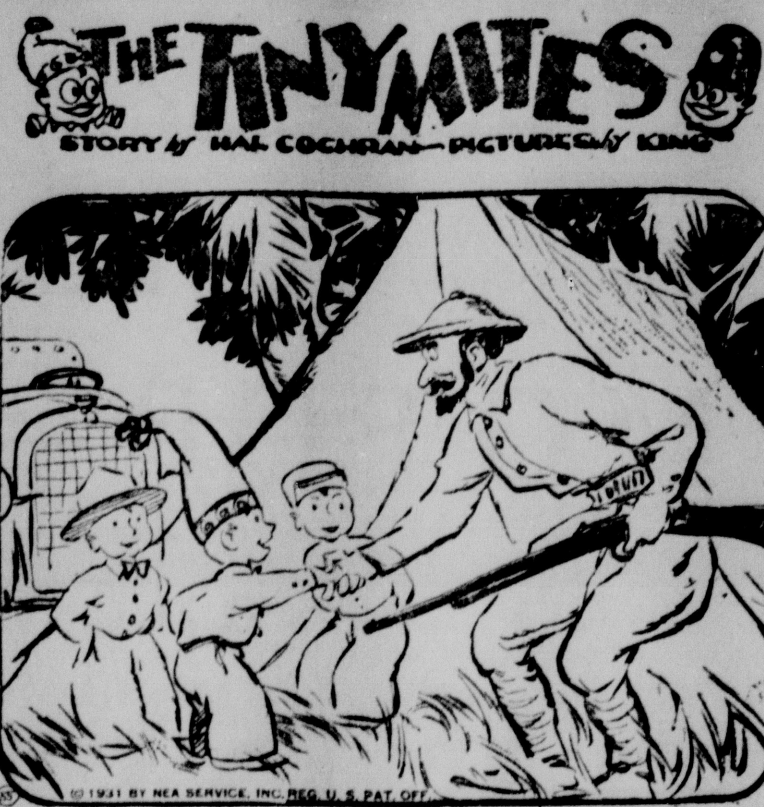

The president should console himself with the thought that if the Senate doesn't pay much attention to his words he can get plenty for them as a writer later on.

In this respect a depression is like a war: Experts thought it would be over in a few months.

The old bicycle club which disbanded in New York recently might get some comfort in the fact that we still have our business cycles.

Delaware prison officials who ordered five convicts flogged apparently had their own ideas as to how to put prisoners in stripes.

A college in the midwest is up for sale. Perhaps it might have been flourishing still had Rudy Vallee got hold of its trinking song in due time.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The camp site on the winding stream, to Scouty was just like a dream. Said he, "Let's build a camp fire and then sing a song or two. We'll gather sticks that are real dry. I know we'll find some right nearby." "By golly," shouted Goppy, "that's a right smart thing to do. Now, everybody lend a hand. If we all work to beat the band we'll have a pile that's big enough to last an hour." Then to the brush three times ran. Wee Clowdy, to the Travel Man, said, "I will stay and watch the tent. I'm feeling rather low."

"Aw, you're just lazy, little lad. Enough sleep you have never had. But you can stay right here with me," replied the Travel Man. "We'll fix the blankets up just right so we can all sleep well tonight." All right," said little Clowdy. And inside the tent he ran. They had their fire and sang a song. Their little voices rang out strong. Another song soon followed. Then the Travel Man said, "We had best turn in and get our rest. At dawn, when we're all up and dressed I'll tell you of a plan I have. It's thrilling as can be." They all slept sound. At break of day the Tinymites all cried, "Hurrah," when Mister Travel Man exclaimed: "I've rented a canoe. We'll start right down this stream today. The Indian Ocean's far away, but we can paddle to it. That's the plan I had for you."

"I'll hire a man to drive our truck to Johannesburg." Then came some luck. He found the man he wanted and the man said, "Sure! I'll drive your big truck through somehow and meet you several days from now." He then shook hands with all the bunch, which gave the lads a thrill.

(The Tinymites start their canoe trip in the next story.)

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

R. E. LEE'S BIRTH

On Jan. 19, 1807, Robert E. Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate armies in the Civil War, was born in Westmoreland county, Va., the son of a Revolutionary War veteran.

At 18, he entered West Point, graduated second in his class and received a commission in the engineer corps. After the Mexican War, in which he was repeatedly promoted for distinguished services, he became superintendent of West Point.

His next service was as cavalry commander on the Texas border. He was recalled to Washington in March, 1861, when seven states had formed the Southern Confederacy. A month later Lee sent in his resignation, and, within two days, was made commander-in-chief of the military forces at Richmond.

After successfully leading his forces in the early days of the war, Lee finally yielded to the superior armies of Grant, surrendering his army at Appomattox courthouse, Virginia. Lee then accepted the presidency of Washington College, now Washington and Lee, at Lexington, Va., in which post he remained until his death in 1870.

In British India 222 languages are spoken. Only 82 persons in every 1000 are able to read or write a letter.

Drug Magnate Sees Business Upswing

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—After conferring with President Hoover at the White House, Louis K. Liggett, Republican National Committee man for Massachusetts, expressed the opinion today that American business is decidedly on the upturn.

While he said he did not expect any remarkable showing from the upswing until about April, he felt it was decided enough to stop "the playing of politics with hard times in Congress."

"In my opinion," he said, "the American business man is getting his tail feathers off the ground. And when he does he will not appreciate or approve anyone having made political capital out of unemployment."

"A great many people who have never been employed are now being counted as unemployed. They have never worked and never will. The making of political capital out of such unemployment is a disgrace."

"I do not maintain that all of our unemployment is of this nature but I am convinced that some consideration should be shown for those who are employed."

Liggett, who directs a large chain of drug stores, said his business was picking up.

Bread-Sugar Probe Will Start Monday

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Senate's investigation of the prices of bread and sugar and possibly other food products ordered by the Senate yesterday will get under way next week.

Chairman Capper of the Agriculture sub-committee to make the inquiry, said today the scope of the inquiry, the witnesses and the general program would be determined at a meeting Monday. Hearings will be started a day or two later.

Senators Wagner, Democrat, New York, and Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, authors of the resolution under which the inquiry is being held, have been invited to explain their views.

Capper said he believed representatives of the big bread baking companies which have recently formed mergers and consolidations, should be among the first called.

A resolution to have milk and dairy products prices also investigated was introduced by Senator Brookhart.

Negro Banjoist's Playing Moves Judge

Key West, Fla., Jan. 18.—(UP)—Judge Vining Harris wasn't altogether satisfied that the prisoner before the bar, a Negro who called himself "Piccolo Pete," was telling the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Pete was charged with intoxication.

"So you play the piccolo?" inquired the Judge.

"No, suh, Judge, the banjo," replied Pete.

"Well, let's hear you play 'Home Sweet Home.'"

Producing the banjo, Pete strummed upon it so sweetly that the Judge, deeply moved, declared:

"I was going to give you 60 days, but I'll just make it 30. Now give me an encore."

HIGH OFFICIALS INVOLVED IN BIG GRAFT IS CHARGE

Hotel Raid In Chicago on Sunday Reveals Ring Attorneys Say

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Records, described by prosecutors as revealing "astounding graft" that reached into high places, were in possession of the law today for presentation to the special grand jury investigating the police department.

The records were seized from two safes found in the Rex Hotel, headquarters on the south side for henchmen of Al "Scarface" Capone in an early Sunday morning raid. Assistant State Attorneys Charles J. Mueller and Charles E. Lounsbury said they showed dealings between Capone gangsters, politicians, policemen and public officials whose names they "did not even dare to talk about."

Dennis "the Duke" Cooney, operator of the hotel, the prosecutors said, was shown to have had "business or social connections" with various officials. Purported "pay-off" lists, ledgers and other papers pertaining to liquor, gambling and vice were among the documents seized.

Paric prevailed in the underworld after the raiders, described as trusted detectives from the State's Attorney's office, surprised the operation of the hotel, and kept it under guard for more than four hours. Newspaper investigators reported that virtually every speakeasy in the loop was quickly closed, so too, were gambling houses.

Cooney In Florida

Cooney is reported to be in Florida. He is known as "The Duke" because he wears a different suit each morning, afternoon and night. In his place the officers found George "Tubby" Miller, whom they arrested as well as 15 other men and six women. In addition to the records the officers found in the safes about $15,000 in currency, revolvers, blackjacks, a shot gun and police night sticks.

While the raiders were in charge two uniformed policemen and two detectives sauntered in, saying they had been under instructions to call at the place every hour to see if there were any violations of the law, but they had never found any.

"How long," ask Mueller, "have you been blind?"

Miss Bernice Shaw, 34, was under subpoena to appear before the special grand jury and testify regarding her charges. That Police Sergeant Jack Herdegen had been a "go-between" for vice operators and Jack Zuta, slain business manager for George Moran's north side gang, Herdegen was arrested on the charge of buying his promotion with $1,500 obtained from Zuta. Hotel proprietors were summoned to testify regarding their charge that she lived with Herdegen for four years, and bankers to tell of their reputed joint bank account.

Former Congressman Harry W. Starr testified in a contest over Zuta's will that the slain gangster told him he was forming an organization to support Mayor Thompson and expected to become "a power in politics."

In the curtain raising game, the Rock Falls lightweights won from Dixon by a score of 9 to 8. Dixon presented the stronger team of the two in the heavyweight contest and took the honors by a score of 13 to 12.

Chinese Grocer Kills Self When Pet Canary Dies

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(UP)—The American folks in the neighborhood of 218 West 22nd Street always considered Hong Mink Lak, the Chinese grocer, as peculiar.

Some of them called him "a nut." Hong Mink lived in the rear of his store which he kept open Sundays and nights, but he didn't always tend his business closely. Sometimes he sat for hours just looking at a flower.

His only pet and companion was a canary. In the meantime he took it for walks. Some times as he walked slowly along, carrying the bird cage, the canary would sing. He stopped to listen until it stopped. Last week a customer noticed that Hong Mink Lak's canary was moulted. Then it refused food. Hong Mink Lak was seen burning joss sticks before his little Buddha. Offerings of wine and nuts were placed before the idol.

The same customer went to the grocery yesterday. He could get in. It was unusual. He called police, who broke down the door. The bird cage sat on a stand at the head of Hong Mink's bed. The canary was dead.

Hong Mink Lak appeared to be asleep. The officers shook him. He was cold and rigid. They lifted his mandarin jacket. Hong Mink Lak, the peculiar one, was dead, a bullet wound through his heart.

DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Distressing muscular lambo, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses.

GAMES THIS WEEK
Monday—Northwestern at Michigan; Indiana at Iowa; Wisconsin at Minnesota.
Saturday—Michigan at Chicago; Ohio State at Northwestern; Illinois at Wisconsin.

The 1931 Big Ten basketball race entered the second quarter today with Northwestern and Chicago tied for the lead. Fifteen of the season's 60 scheduled games have been played with the Wildcats and Maroons the only teams undefeated.

The Quintette generally appear better balanced than at any time in recent years and coaches are predicting that any team which is able to win nine of its twelve contests will earn at least a tie for honors. Illinois, with four consecutive defeats, is counted out of the title chase, but all of the other teams still have an opportunity to win.

Northwestern and Ohio State have been outstanding to date and the Wildcats continue in the favorite role, but there is a strong probability that games this week will change the outlook. Northwestern plays Michigan tonight and the Wolverines have hopes of reversing the ve point defeat sustained in a previous game at Northwestern. Ohio is idle tonight, but will invade Northwestern Saturday.

Chicago has shown the greatest improvement over last year of any team in the league, but the Maroons' championship qualifications are unproved. Chicago's victories over Indiana and Minnesota were scored by the margin of a single point and while one-point victories count as much as any others in the victory column they leave doubt as to the superiority of the winners. The Maroons will receive their next test Saturday when they entertain Michigan.

Two of Saturday's games were decided by one point margins, Chicago nosing out Minnesota, 32 to 31, and Indiana defeating Illinois, 35 to 34. Ohio State was impressive in a 22 to 16 triumph over Michigan, while Wisconsin had its short passing game working properly for the first time this season and walloped Iowa, 24 to 13.

In tonight's games Northwestern, Indiana and Wisconsin are favored to defeat Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota respectively.

Escaped Death At Niagara By Swim

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 17.—(UP)—The pilot of a 35-foot speedboat escaped death by diving from the craft one mile before it went over the Horseshoe Falls, William "Red" Hill, noted riverman, reported today.

The name of the pilot was not learned.

Hill told a group of reporters who were canvassing the Canadian shore for residents who might have seen the boat drifting toward the falls, that he had seen the man jump from the boat as it was passing Chippewa, Ont., and swim ashore. He said he met the man at Chippewa, and escorted him to Bridgeburg, where the pilot hired a cab to drive him to Buffalo.

The man would not reveal his identity, Hill said.

Ice jams on the upper Niagara were believed to have disabled the boat, forcing the pilot to abandon it.

The Shanghai, China, Weekly Review, in commenting on the bill-board situation in that city, says:

"Shanghai, despite its narrow, crooked streets was once a not unattractive city. Bubbling Well once lived up to its name as an interesting avenue of homes of tal-pans, a street where it was once possible to point out to the tourist where the nabobs of tea, silk, rubber, opium, and piece goods resided, and not the least in tourist interest were the palaces where rich Chinese merchants were popularly supposed to house their harems."

"But all this has gone and Bubbling Well now has become a street of small shops, to which there can be no objection, but along with the shops there has grown up a forest of billboards, or as the N. C. D. N. put it, a 'vary-colored canyon,' the banks of which are composed of printed slogans and caricatures. Here we find everything from chewing gum to pills. Well may we imagine the thoughts of the tourist from America or Europe who spent his good money on a trip to see the wonders of the Orient. What did he find in Shanghai? Even our one remaining Chinese temple is placarded all around with signs. In order to get into the temple it practically is necessary to crawl under or squeeze oneself between printed advertisements of pillor salve. Thus far no signs have been put up in the grounds of the English Cathedral and we wonder how the promoters of this form of advertising have overlooked this great opportunity."

"The strange part of it all is why the local foreign and Chinese newspapers have kept silent so long, because the billboard promoters have taken good money right out of the pockets of the newspaper proprietors. The reason for this is that an advertising agent obtains a much larger fee through the promotion of billboards than from the placing of advertisements in newspapers. Hence the advertising agent always encourages his prospects to use more and more billboard advertising. One often wonders what would happen if the manufacturers of America, England and Germany would visit Shanghai and see at first hand how their advertising appropriations, intended to appeal to the people of China, are being concentrated on a few streets in the Shanghai foreign settlements exclusively."

"The best way to test out the effectiveness of billboard advertising is to try to remember the names of a few of the hundreds of products that are advertised on the blocks and blocks of billboards which disfigure the public streets. One is lucky if he can remember a half-dozen, hence the futility of this form of commercial publicity in the promotion of the sale of goods—the real purpose of efficient advertising."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Wealthy Cause Game 'Leggers To Shoot Cops

New York—Wealthy people, generally club members, do more to encourage game bootlegging than any other class, according to information reaching the American Game Association.

"Their action, for the most part, is thoughtless in purchasing wild game served in clubs, night clubs, hotels and high class restaurants. If it were not purchased by the patrons, most of them respected citizens, it would not be bought of the game bootlegger, consequently would not be killed," Seth Gordon, president of the association, said in denouncing the illegal practice, which, he was informed, is prevalent in almost every state in the union.

The United States Bureau of Biological Survey has declared war on the bootlegger of game, and Paul Redington, chief of the bureau, denounces the game bootleggers as "the most vicious element in society." Several federal game protectors have been fired upon by these bootleggers when attempts were made to arrest them.

"Sportsmen should lend every assistance to suppress the illegal practice of market hunting and bootlegging of game," Mr. Gordon continued. "The wealthy class are the only ones who can afford to buy game at the high bootleg prices. They evidently do not realize the great harm they do both to conservation and in endangering the lives of conscientious officers who attempt to enforce the law. This class of outlaw hunter is of the lowest type, usually filled with bootleg of another kind, and does not hesitate to turn his deadly gun upon the warden if he is approached.

"Stop buying or eating bootleg game and save the lives of these men," Mr. Gordon pleaded in his appeal to the public.

Tunney Will Join Exploring Party

New York, Jan. 19—(AP)—Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world, is described by today's New York American as planning to follow the trail of Marco Polo into ancient Cathay.

Accompanied by his wife, the former Polly Lauder, Tunney will sail Thursday for Cairo, Egypt, the paper says, there to join the Haardt trans-Asiatic expedition on a motorized trek through Syria, Arabia, Iraq, Persia and India to the celestial kingdom of the great Khans in the north of China.

Included in the party will be Dr. John Oliver LaGorce, vice president of the National Geographic Society, and Mrs. LaGorce. The company will split at Beirut, Syria, the women going to Damascus while the men push across the deserts and mountains of Asia.

The expedition, headed by Georges Marie Haardt, vice president of the Citroen Motor Company, is composed of 35 members, including nine scientists. It will move in a caravan of eight automobiles supplemented by caterpillar tractors and trailers. Its equipment includes talking film apparatus and a short wave radio station.

Tunney and Dr. LaGorce are close friends and fellow travelers, having toured Spain together at the time Mrs. Tunney was stricken with appendicitis. Haardt is a veteran explorer with a 15,000-mile trip through Africa to his credit.

Wilson Will Demand Half Babe's Salary

Chicago, Jan. 19—(AP)—Having read of Babe Ruth's reported salary of $80,000 a year, Hack Wilson has decided that he should be worth at least half that much.

The pudgy Cub outfielder, who dethroned the Bombino as home run king of the majors with 56 circuit clouts last season, said he would demand a contract calling for $40,000 next season.

President William Veeck of the Cubs is vacationing at Catalina Island, Cal., the training site of the Cubs, but is expected back soon for a personal conference with Wilson.

Wilson's contract calling for $22,500 a year, expired at the end of the 1930 campaign.

Landis Knows What To Do On Course

Belleair, Fla., Jan. 19—(AP)—Kenneth Mountain Landis, czar of baseball, is very emphatic on what to do when one's golf ball gets into a trap. "Say," he interviewed an interviewer, "when you play golf and your ball gets in a trap do you say 'Tsk-tsk-tsk' or do you cuss?"

He answered his own question: "When you get in a fix like that don't say 'Tsk-tsk-tsk' or 'my gracious,' but walk up to the ball, cuss it for all it's worth, and then sock it."

Pirates' Manager To Keep 'em Limber

Pittsburgh, Jan. 19—(AP)—Even the train stops are to be utilized by Jewel Ens this spring in limbering up his Pittsburgh Pirates. Old fashioned gymnastics are to play an important part in the training program and the work will start even before the boys reach their camp in Paso Robles, Cal. Every time the engine stops for water or coal the boys will be hustled out of the cars and put through their stuff, Ens says.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

SAVE THE SOCKEYE SALMON

A treaty between Canada and the United States to safeguard the valuable sockeye salmon fisheries of the Fraser River district is before the United States for ratification. This treaty has been developed by officials representing the two countries and has been endorsed by the American Fisheries Society, the International Association of Game Fish and Conservation Commissioners, the Izaak Walton League of America, and many other groups.

GARDEN OFFERS ANOTHER STUNT FRIDAY NIGHT

Braddock And Schaaf to Furnish Amusement For Fight Fans

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
New York, Jan. 19—(UP)—Madison Square Garden on Friday night will present a ten-round bout between James J. Braddock of Jersey City and Ernie Schaaf of Boston.

Both Braddock and Schaaf are so-

Washington, with headquarters at Seattle, to its members.

This proposed treaty provides for a joint commission to administer its provisions, to maintain joint hatcheries, and to prescribe the size of mesh and the kind of gear to be used in fishing for sockeye salmon.

Some years ago a treaty developed in much the same way and covering the Great Lakes failed of ratification simply because the friends of conservation and the farsighted leaders in the fishing industry failed to do their part. The present deplorable situation in the Great Lakes is the result. It is hoped that all friends of conservation will go solidly behind the sockeye salmon treaty at once and help to improve conditions in the welfare of this good fish.

ber, steady, ambitious workmen, and both can be depended upon to go in there and fight a steady, sober, slugging fight. Such a fight will be just the sort to follow last week's comic bill and uphold the Garden's apparent policy of something different every Friday.

For the last few weeks, at least, the Garden has succeeded with a bang in furnishing surprises. Three weeks ago it offered Pierre Charles of Belgium and Jack Renault, one-time mounted policeman of the far northwest, in a really delightful series of dance numbers.

Last Friday the Baer-Heeneey-Dempsey-Timekeeper troupe presented a bit of old-time, slap-stick burlesque that was worthy of Weber and Fields. The time-keeper whose trousers caught on his chair and hampered his time-keeping was particularly amusing.

There were but two faults to be found with the Baer-Heeneey skit. It was too short and it lacked a dramatic punch.

Heeneey, however, would probably have supplied the dramatic punch but for the unfortunate and sudden ending which found him counted out while still strong and fresh. The rugged New Zealander was out in front when "knocked out" and seemed determined to stay out there and take the decision from the coast youngster.

The Schaaf-Braddock fight, while likely to be as amusing as the Baer-Heeneey affair, is certain to be hard fought from beginning to end. Schaaf showed in his fight here with Baer that he is a better than ordinary boxer, can take plenty of punishment, and is a fairly strong hitter.

Paddock Suffers From "Dog Bites"

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 19—(AP)—Charles Paddock, former world's sprint champion, was under treatment here today for dog bites.

He said the cause of his trouble was his pet chow's inability to outdistance a bulldog. When the bulldog caught the chow, Paddock went to his pet's assistance and the bulldog turned on him.

Paddock suffered deep gashes on his left arm and right hand.

Daily Health Talk

HEREDITY OR ENVIRONMENT?

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN.
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

A little mite, called Acarus scabiei, burrows into the human skin in order to lay eggs and as a result sets up an irritation with severe itching.

The places usually selected for the burrowing are the skin between the fingers, under the arms and on the lower abdomen. Usually the condition does not spread beyond these areas, but in people who are not particularly careful about bathing and dressing it may involve almost the entire body.

Cases are known in which this itch-mite has gotten into the wardrobes or costumes of "supers" of theatrical or operatic companies and gradually infested the entire company so that the subsequent itching interfered with the performance. In children, the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet are frequently attacked.

Fortunately there is a certain method of controlling this condition when it is properly diagnosed. This method involves the proper use of sulphur which may be employed in various forms. Usually it is necessary first of all to prescribe a thorough cleansing of the patient with hot water and soap bath. He then rubs his body completely with the ointment which any physician may prescribe and leaves the ointment on overnight.

On the next day he takes another hot cleansing bath, receives a completely new outfit of clothing, particularly underclothing, and the treatment is finished.

Equally important with the treatment of the disease is the handling of the clothing of the patient. It is necessary in practically every case to disinfect the clothing thoroughly so as to destroy every itch-mite that may be present in it or on it.

The condition has been described as Cuban itch, French itch, and assigned to various other nationalities, but no nation seems to have a complete monopoly upon it.

NURSE STABBED

Miami, Fla., Jan. 17—(UP)—As Agnes McMillan, a nurse, entered the kitchen of the Dade County hospital last night, a man jumped from behind the door, slashed her with a knife, then looked her in the face and shouted "My God, you are the wrong woman."

Miss McMillan said she broke loose, seized a kettle of boiling water, but in attempting to throw it at him as he escaped through a window, drenched and scalded her arms and legs.

As a result of the attack the nurse was suffering today from knife wounds, none of which is serious.

Bonds For Release Of Rongetti Oked

Washington, Jan. 17—(UP)—Edward B. McClean, newspaper publisher, was ordered today to pay his wife $65,000 back alimony and $7,500 a month for support of herself and her three children. The ruling was handed down by Justice William Hitz of the District Supreme Court in separation proceedings between the McCleans.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
